publisher's notes

Following their recent "Forms" Exhibition. Georg Jensen opened another exhibit, "Norway" and presented a very fine collection of pottery, glass, furniture, fabrics, rugs and fashion. The exhibition is the result of the combined work of more than thirty of Norway's most gifted artisans, diverse in its range, yet comprehensive in its composition.

The glass collection displayed a strong Italian influence. Arne Jon Jutrem, Lunning Prize Winner for 1959 exhibited his graceful solid color glass containers with glass tops.

The fabric collection included both cottons and woolens. The cottons for the most part were brilliantly striped in tones of red, blue, yellow and green. Woolens appeared in both solid colors and interesting tweeds.

The stainless steel collection included vases, trays, condiment canisters, bowls and serving pieces — many of them were enameled in in-between shades of green, aqua and blue, — almost iridescent in color.

The furniture group included chairs, upholstered, leather and cane and tables by such designers as Torbjorn Afdal and Rolf Hesland.

Marking the Twenty-Ninth Anniversary of the American Institute of Decorators, their annual convention will be held at the Beverly Hilton Hotel, Beverly Hills, California from May 15 to 20. This promises to be an outstanding convention under the excellent leadership of J. H. Leroy Chambers, President. A report of the winners of the A.I.D. Awards will appear in the next issue.

As FURNITURE FORUM enters its eleventh year, we would like to take this opportunity of expressing our sincere thanks for the splendid support and co-operation of the firms and subscribers who make the publication possible. More and more architects, interior designers and contract furnishers continue to write us encouraging notes expressing their interest and approval of the service we are endeavoring to render to the interior furnishings field. We shall continue to be as helpful as we can because we sincerely believe an interesting and challenging future lies ahead.

ARNE JON JUTREM was born in Oslo and is a graduate of the State Handicraft and Art School. He also studied with Fernand Leger in Paris. In 1954 he won the gold medal award at the Milan Triennale.

He has participated with honors in a number of important exhibits in Europe and the United States and was represented in the Scandinavian Design Exhibit, which toured America a few years ago. Some of his designs were presented at the Metropolitan Museum of Art in their 1959 Glass Exhibit. Also in 1959 Mr. Jutrem was the Frederik Lunning Prize Winner from Norway.

Primarily a glass designer, Arne has also designed many products for consumer use. Currently as head utility glass designer at Hadeland Glassverk, he has been experimenting in color decoration in glass to achieve a strong expression of free design.

Mr. Jutrem is now visiting and studying industrial design in the United States and Mexico, visiting museums and design centers across the nation.

JAY DOBLIN was a 1942 graduate of the Industrial Design School at Pratt Institute, where he received the Honor Student Award that year. Following graduation he worked for Raymond Lowey for several years and his activities included camouflage of defense plants and gun placements, and design of medical kits. In 16 years he has been involved in the design of some 200 consumer products. From 1949 to 1952 Mr. Doblin directed the Pratt Night School. In 1955 he was appointed Director of Institute of Design at Chicago. Serving as President of the American Society of Industrial Designers in 1956-57, he became a Fellow in 1958. Currently Mr. Doblin divides his time between consulting and his duties at Illinois Institute of Technology.

As the eighteenth in their Forecast Collection of outstanding designs for the future, the Aluminum Company of America presents a group of "Peoples Chairs" designed by Jay Doblin. Created to explore the use of aluminum and its possible finishes in the design of outdoor furniture, the "People Chairs" are not on the market but they do point to imaginative new ways of things to come.

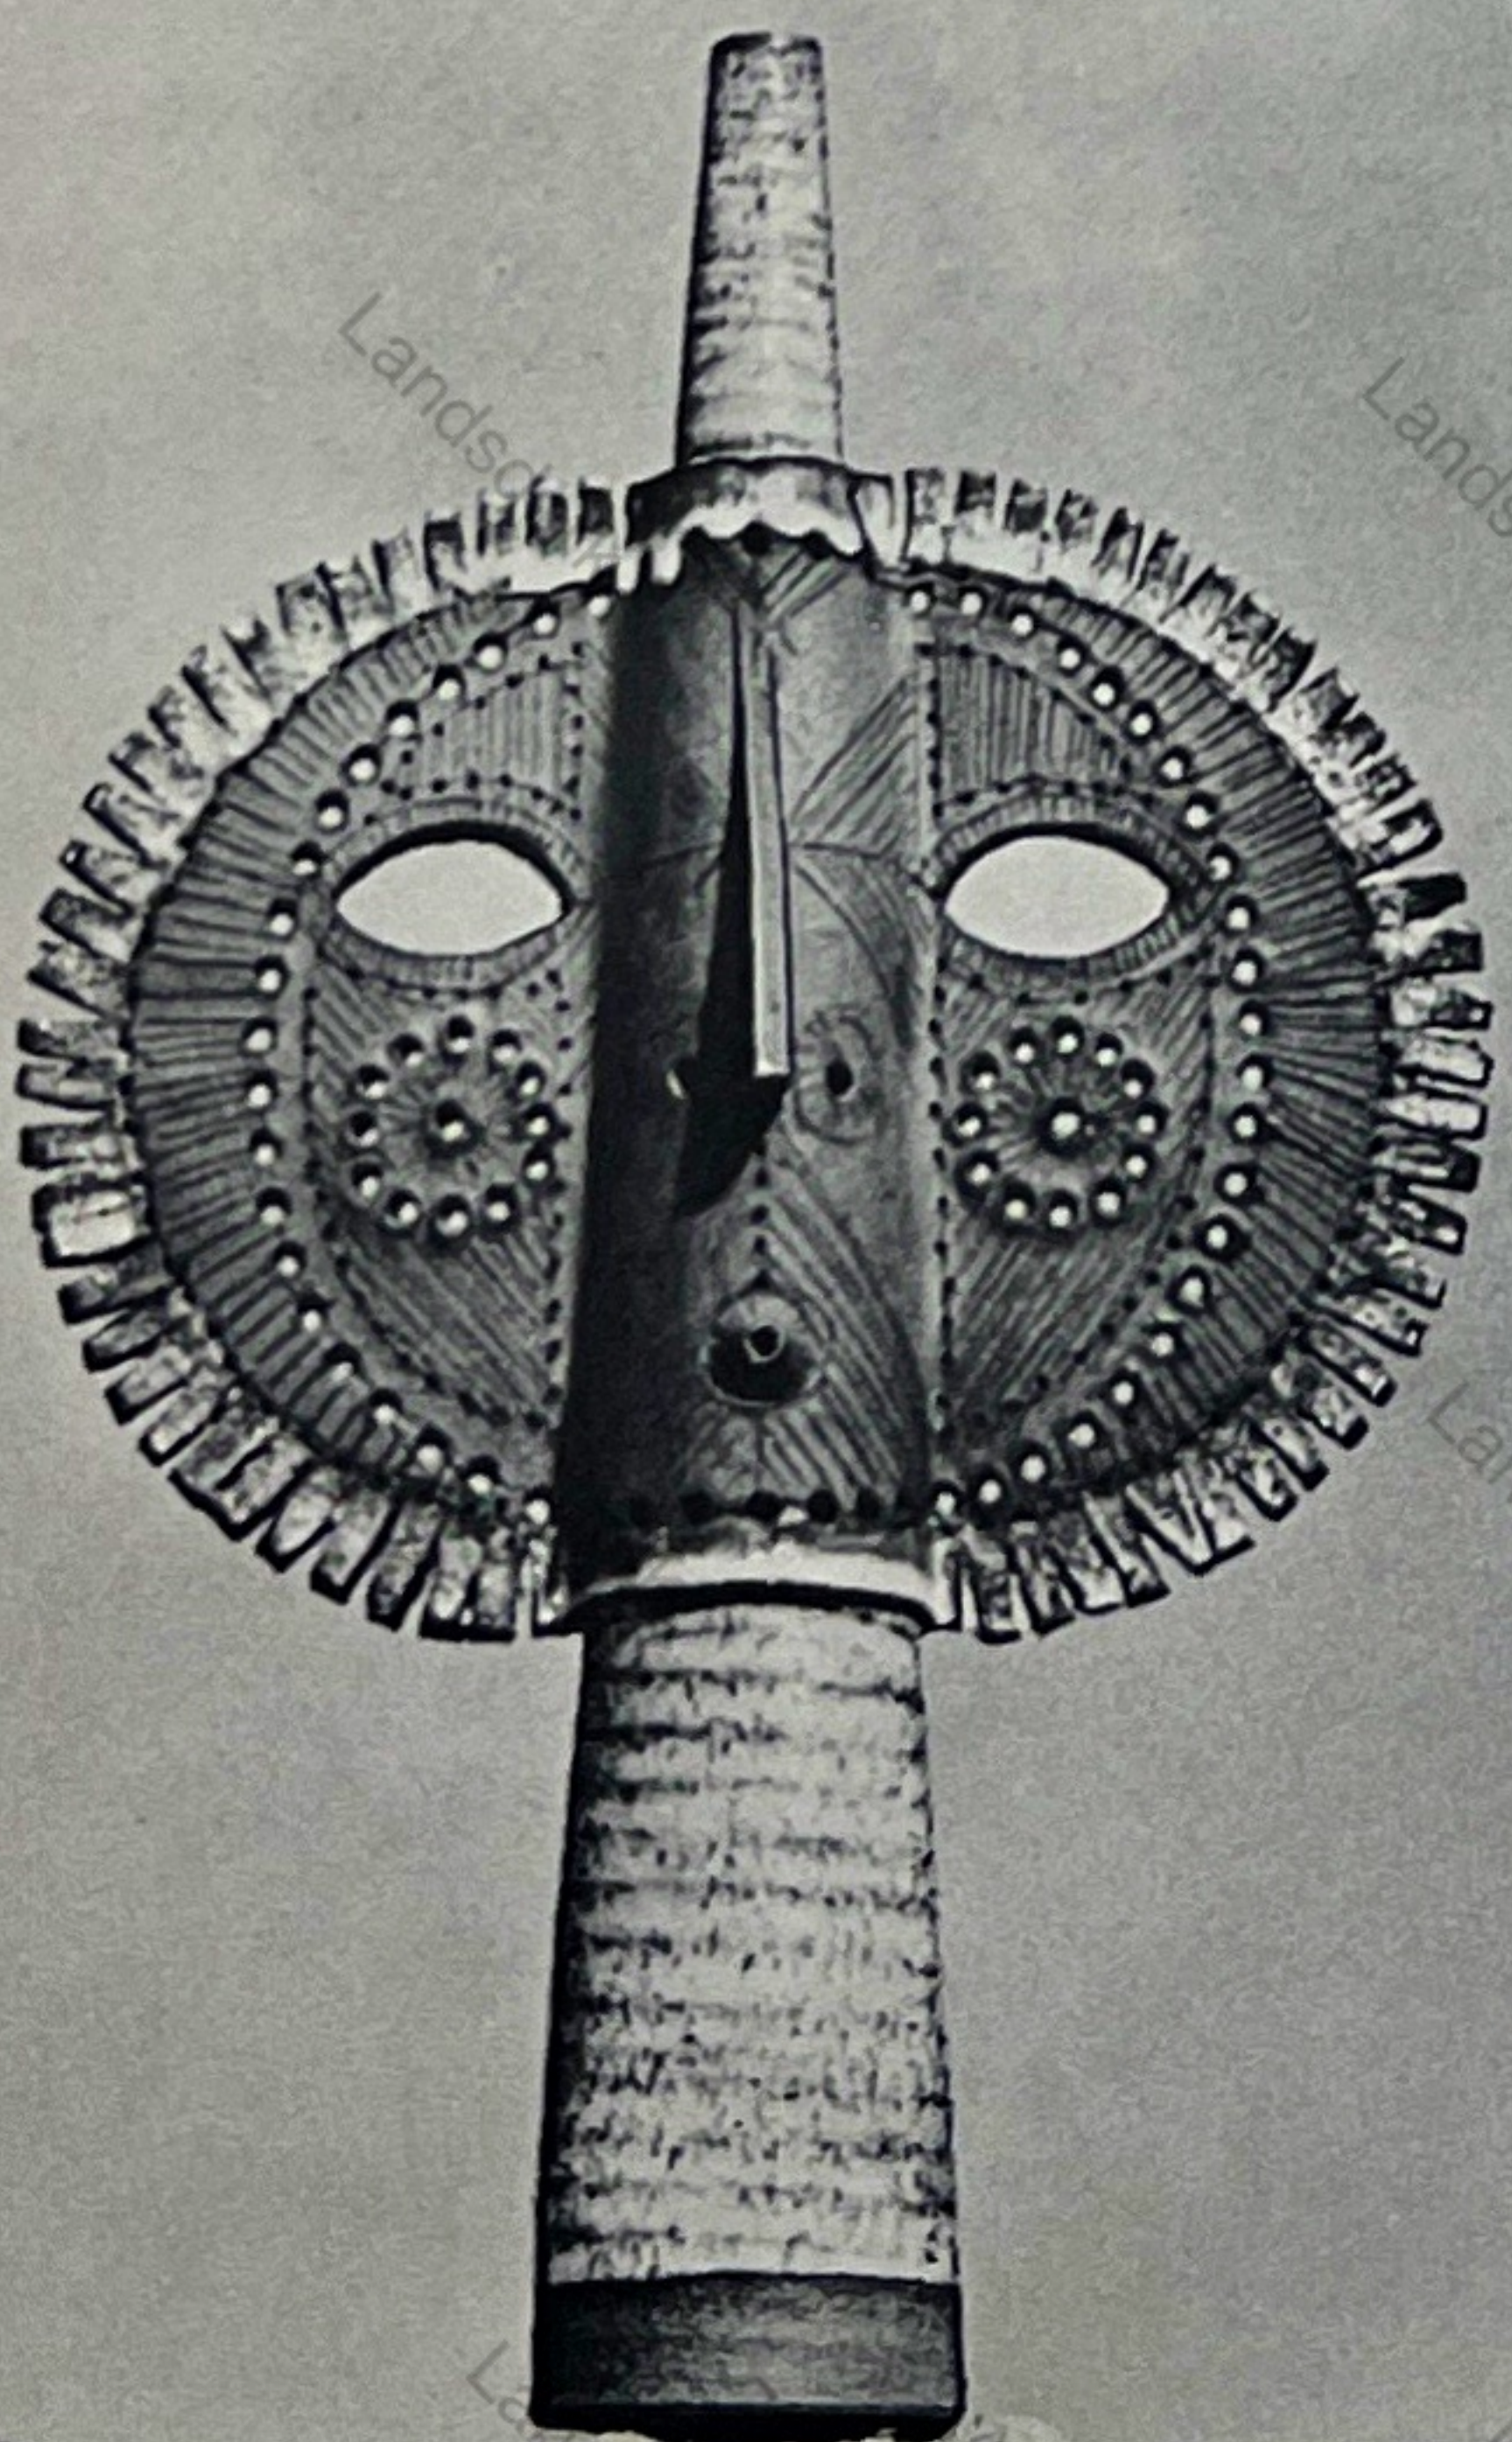

JOHANNES HEDEGAARD, sculptor, was winner of the Royal Academy of Arts gold medal and is internationally famed for his ceramic sculptures. Mr. Hedegaard is represented in the Museum of Lund, Sweden and in the Museum of Applied Art, in Copenhagen. Shown at work in his studio, Mr. Hedegaard is a designer of Royal Copenhagen Porcelain and a selection of his figures and vases were displayed at the recent "Forms" Exhibition.

RUT BRYK was one of the featured designers at the recent Jensen "Forms" Exhibition in New York. Since joining Arabia in 1942 her work has been widely exhibited in all of the Scandinavian countries and throughout Europe and the United States. In 1951 Miss Bryk was the recipient of the Grand Prix Milan. In 1954, she received the Diploma d'Honneur Milan and the Silver Medal at Cannes in 1955. Her design, the "Lion" wall plaque shows her creative imagination in design and execution.

SIGNE PERSSON a prominent young ceramist from Sweden was a Lunning Prize Winner in 1958. She maintains her own studio in Sweden and exhibits her finely wrought ceramics at exhibitions here and abroad. A number of her designs were presented at the Jensen "Forms" Exhibition.

FRANCESCA LINDH of Arabia is shown at work in her studio in Finland. In 1957 Francesca was First Prize Winner at the Museum of Contemporary Crafts in New York. She has exhibited in Cannes, Brussels, Copenhagen, Germany, Milan and New York. Her work includes bowls, art objects and articles for everyday use, in such finishes as faience, porcelain, chamotte, and stoneware. At the recent "Forms" Exhibition presented by Georg Jensen, Inc., Miss Lindh was represented by four of her designs, vases, bowls and dishes.
